COLORADO AMERICAN LEGION BASEBALL

Tiebreaker Criteria

All CALB Tournament Berths – A, B, C & D

Final tournament berths are determined on the basis of regular League or Division game schedules as updated on the CALB web site.

THIS TIE BREAKING SYSTEM IS USED BETWEEN TIED TEAMS ONLY. ALL TIES AFTER SCHEDULED PLAY SHALL BE SETTLED AS FOLLOWS AND THIS ORDER:

TWO TEAM TIEBREAKER

In a tie between two teams for league or division ranking, CALB tournament berths will be determined by:

- First tiebreaker: Head to head win-loss record between the two teams
- Second tiebreaker: Win-loss record versus common opponents, from top down.
- Third tiebreaker: The results of a 7-inning playoff game. The home team is determined by a coin flip.

THREE OR MORE TEAMS TIEBREAKER

In a tie between three or more teams for league or division ranking, CALB tournament berths will be determined by:

- First tiebreaker: Head to head win-loss loss record between the tied teams.
- Second tiebreaker: Win-loss record versus common opponents, from top down.
- Third tiebreaker: The results of a 5-inning round-robin playoff game. The home team is determined by a coin flip.
- Fourth tiebreaker: The least total runs allowed during the 5-inning round robin playoff between the tied teams.
- Fifth tiebreaker: The most runs scored during the 5-inning round robin playoff between the tied teams.
- Sixth tiebreaker: A coin flip held by the CALB Chairperson or his/her designated CALB Commission member.

* Tournament dropouts: The CALB Commission has the authority to re-evaluate playoff/tournament berths due to a team dropping out. If the 1st and 2nd place teams opt to not participate in a State/League Tournament, then the CALB Commission will evaluate the state/league berths. Example: If a first and second place division or League team elects not to participate in an CALB Tournament, then the CALB Commission may elect to choose a higher ranked team from a different division.
